25X1

In accordance with our oral understanding of some weeks ago, we have been conducting a round-up of open literature that has a bearing on mental warfare with a view to illuminating Soviet practices as well as the potential state of the art in the West.

I am going on leave today and the draft report is to be submitted to me on my return from leave on September 17. It is my expectation that after we have studied the report here, we will turn it over to you for such use as you care to make of it.

Accordingly, when I return from leave I will get in touch with you.
